in the latter city seriously interfered with his plans. It is possible when he is in England be will endeavor to secure a change in Canadian patent laws, to overcome a difficulty in the importation to that country of some of his patent appliances.

'BY CABLE TO THE DISPATCH." LONDON, September 7-[Copyright,]-Edison has given over his original plan of returning from Paris to New York without visiting London, and will arrive in this town in a day or two, accompanied by Senator William Maxwell Evarts. Edison has had a reception in Paris such as no American or any other foreigner has ever received. During the three weeks that he has been in the gay capital he has only escaped big dinners two or three nights, and he is said to be in the condition of a Strasbourg goose as a result of the over-hospitality of his admirers. Paris enthused over Edison as only Paris can. Crowds have followed him in the streets, and his appearance at the Exposition has been the invariable signal for a blockade which only the police could move. As his picture has been published in all the illustrated papers and his photographs are on sale in the shop windows, his face became well known and he has been unable to appear anywhere in public without being recognized. The newspapers have published his goings and comings with greater attention even than they devoted to the Shah and Mrs. Edison and her sister. Miss Miller, have been described with much detail by the Parisian flaneurs.

BELIEVED ALMOST ANYTHING.

The French public considers Edison is the sole inventor of the telegraph, telephone, electric light and even electricity itself, if not the solar system as well, and when Figure gravely announced this week that he had just completed an adjustment for the phonograph whereby conversation in English was translated into French, halt Paris believed it, and Edison worship has in-creased a hundred fold since. The atten-tion he has received has not been unmixed pleasure to Edison. intention in visiting Paris was to make an exhaustive study of the mechanical exhibits at the Exposition, instead of which he has been one of the principal exhibits himself, while the crowd that have followed him, and the festivities that were thrust upon him have prevented his giving the protracted attention to what would have to it. interested him most, Frank R. Upton, President of the Edison Electric Lamp Company at East Newark, and Eugene H. Lewis, of New York, who were with the Edison party in Paris, arrived in London this week, and Upton sailed for America on the Saale Thursday.

SUPPOSED PATENT PLANS. remains here to meet Edison and Evarts, a circumstances showing that Edison has changed his plans, and will come to London, and that he is to be accompanied by Mr. Evarts, whose ostensible purpose in visiting Paris was to have his eyes treated by an eminent French occulist, gives rise to a rumor affecting electric lighting interests in America. The rumor is that Edison and the two lawyers visit London for the purpose of having a consultation with her the intention of lynching him. A number of deputies were with the Sheriff and a pitched battle ensued, which resulted disastrously for the lynchers. No one was killed, but Snyder was struck in the shoulder with a bullet. The Sheriff finally ran the prisoner into the Court Huges & Hacke.

This is laws of the United States and Great Britain, with a view to its effect upon Edison's high resistance filament patent now in litigation in Canada. England reserves the right by the terms of this convention to include any of her colonies under its provisions, and the clause that is supposed to interest the Edison people provides that the importation of a patented article from one of the States bound by the convention to another, shall not invalidate the patent.

INTERESTING LEGAL CONTEST.

The filament patent was first taken out in Canada, and according to Canadian law an article patented in that country and manufactured in another country caunot be imported into Canada without invalidating the patent. Whether the Edison filament patent. Whether the Edison filament patent has been thus invalidated is now being considered in the Canadian courts, and the representatives of other American electric lighting companies, who will be affected by the decision, believe that an effort is to be made to bring Canada into the would be submerred would amount to should be submerred would be submerred would amount to should be submerred would be s effort is to be made to bring Canada into the convention that binds Great Britain, in order to take advantage of the clause giving the right of importation between the States bound by the convention.

In my travels about this country and Europe I have had as much experience in public speaking as most people. I'll have no trouble about getting a hearing in Congress or in making people pay attention to what I say. A man who can quiet a crowd in Madison Square Garden as I have done can make his presence felt in Congress or anywhere else on earth. I therefore announce now my willingness to enter political life. This communication is drawn up in consultation with friends and with their advice, and is the longest that I have ever addressed to any paper. I shall be obliged to you if you will print it. Yours truly, if you will print it. Yours truly,

The property is valued at $500,000, and the amount of damage cannot yet be estimated.

—At Richmond, Ind., the Central Telephone Company's exchange was burned out yesterday by one or more of the wires coming in contact with the cable of the electric street railway. All the mass of wires between the operating room and tower were burned out.

—W. F. Harrison, in the Frankfort, Ky., penitentiary, died Thursday from poison in commercial alcohol which he imbibed in large quantities. He was employed in the paint shop and used to steal the bottles of alcohol, and carry them to his cell to drink at leisure. —It is understood at Washington that the friends of silver currency will make a vigorous fight during the next session of Congress for an increase of coinage of silver dollars to the limit of $4,000,000 per month. The steady increase of the circulation of silver certificates encourages them to believe this will be acceded.

—Secretary Proctor has detailed Major Oswald Ernest, of the Engineers corps, as Superintendent of Public Buildings and Grounds of the District of Columbia, vice Colonel J. M. This is the longest draw span in the world—503 feet, full length; clear opening, 225 feet each side of the central pier. The bridge was designed by A. P. Boller, and constructed by the Union Bridge Company, at the Athens shop. Trains will probably be running over the bridge by Oc-tober 1.

-At Montreal, Canada, the Dominion Labor —At Montreal, Canada, the Dominion Labor Congress yesterday passed resolutions approving the eight-hour movement, Henry George's land taxation scheme, the appointment of a compulsory board of arbitration for all disputes between laborer and employer, and asking the Government to pass a law compelling all cigar dealers to destroy their empty boxes. Day labor for bakers was encouraged, and female typesetters, it was declared, should receive the same pay as men or be prevented from working. Ottawa was agreed on as the next place of meeting.

This would, at least, give an opportunity to gain time by bringing an intricate legal question into the courts. Lewis professes utter ignorance of any such move on the part of Edison and Evarts, however.

A local paper, however, says that it is in reality a local trust in building stone. The plan, it says, it is to buy out all of the stone quarries in this section of the country and consolidate them, paying for them in cash or giving the owners stock in the consolidated company, as they prefer. Options have been secured on all the quarries of any magnitude except three.

-A decision was rendered by the Land Office —A decision was rendered by the Land Office yesterday in a case involving the right of the United States to tidewater lands on the shores of Territories. The question comes before the office on an appeal by Frank Burns, Jr., from the action of the Register and Receiver of the Land Office at Seattle, Washington Territory, who rejected his application to locate, on the ground that the land did not belong to the United States. The Land Office holds that in the United States is vested the title to tidewater lands on the shores of Territories and that a Territory does not possess the sovereignty that attaches to Statehood. The office therefore grants Burns application for lodation.

Republicans of Ohio felt themselves wronged when General Logan failed to stand in the Senate for their rights in the matter of Mr. Payne's corrupt election to that body. They were in grief for him rather than angry with him, and when he died they were forgetful of all but his clory, and there were no mourners more sincere than they. It is regrettable that his son demands attention to the error that clouded demands attention to the error that clouded the close of his Senatorial career, but a gen-erous people would more than once forgive for his father's sake the impetuous indiscretion of the son of the great General of the Western volunteers. Every ranch located on the mountains from north to south is burned. Two lives are said to have been lost. One of these is a man named Robinson, who was camped on the north fork of Powderriver, with a man whose name I cannot learn. worth of timber has gone up in smoke."

—Edward Muir, a poor man, was taken sick at Wausau, Wis., nearly a year ago, and after keeping him as long as possible the proprietor of the hotel at which he had boarded sent him to the county poorhouse. One very coid night shortly afterward, Muir, while irrational from fever, got up in the night and wandered 30 miles from the poorhouse, freezing his face, hands and feet, as he was dressed only in a shirt and pair of pants. He was discovered and cared for by a farmer, and both feet were amputated. When Muir recovered he brought suit against the poorhouse keeper, who allowed his charge to escape, but was defeated. On appeal to the Supreme Court the case was remanded for a new trial, and Muir has just secured a verdict for $3,200.

—Sylvesbro Morales, the outlaw who has for some time terrorized certain sections of the southern part of California, was captured yesterday afternoon. Morales was seen to emerge from the brush near the head of Almites Bay by Constable Wilson, of Ocean Side, and two deputies. They covered him with their rifles as he was stooning to wash his hands in the waters of the bay and made him their prisoner. Nearby in the brush was found the girl, Nymphia Brown, whom Morales abducted from her home about a mouth ago, and who has since accompanied him in his journeys. She refuses to state whether willingly or not. The couple were taken to San Louis Rey, where the girl will be restored to her parents and Morales will be held to answer the charge of recently murdering the wealth rancher, Henry Charles.

—Three men, who have been engaged in swindling inventors all over the United States, were arrested in San Francisco on warrants issued by Judge Hoffman, based on indictments found by the United States grand jury. They are Samuel Sanborn, attorney-at-law; his brother, Clarence Sanborn, architect and patent agent, and Edward L Aiken, who claims to be a dairyman. These men were the managers of the Pioneer, Globe and Occidental patent agencies. They are alleged to have received large amounts of money through false representations. The Pioneer Patent Agency was established in 1875. They claimed to have unrivaled facilities for selling new patents on the Pacific coast and to control advertising space. They sent circulars to all patentees of new inventions, offering to place the matter before the people west of the Rockies for $50, which amount was generally reduced to $20 after a letter or two had been passed between the parties. Many victims were thus roped in.

Canada's Great Pair. Canada's Great Fair and Agricultural Exposition, to be held at Toronto from the 9th to the 21st of September, promises to be an affair of great magnitude. It is probable that a large number from this section of the States will visit it, and those who have never attended this great fair will be sur prised to see the great display that is there made in every department, and it will convey to them a better idea than they could get anywhere else, or in any other way, of the immense resources of the country to the north of us.

UFMANNS' CUSTOM TAILORING DEPARTMENT

Men who are at all careful about their personal appearance cannot fail to profit by an inspection of the elegant and extensive combination of Fall and Winter Suitings, Overcoatings and Trouserings exhibited in our Custom Tailoring Department. It has always been a matter of pride with us to place on our counters such cloths as will best serve the double purpose of wear and beauty, and, while our efforts heretofore have proved entirely satisfactory to our army of customers, we must confess that the stock we have gleaned from the best harvest fields of Europe and America this season overtops by one hundred per cent anything we have ever shown.

It is simply fascinating. You are invited to come in and look over these magnificent groupings of the best products of the world, so far as clothing to order is concerned. There is here for you to look upon every shade and every color of cloth; every combination that the genius of the inventor or designer could hit upon, and you must be blind to the beautiful and all that is tasteful if you cannot find something here to suit even the wildest dreams of your fancy. Among the celebrated fabrics we show are Clay's Worsteds, Martin's Broad Wales, John Taylor's Trouserings, Blarney Tweeds, Genuine Scotch Cheviots, fine Silky Corkscrews, West of England Cloths, etc. In fact picture in one group, before you come, everything beautiful you have seen and when you'll gaze on the stock gathered here you'll say your mind's picture is not near as fascinating as the one we ask you to look upon. How about prices? Well we always feel at ease in regard to our prices; they are always "right." No merchant tailor can even begin to equal our marvelous values in fine Fall Suits made-toorder for $30 and $35, or Pantaloons for $6 and $8. Certainly none have done so yet. The small tailoring shops with their dozen or so patterns make frantic efforts, but like climbing the famous greased pole, they slide back into their abodes. Depend upon it, it will pay you to leave your measure here for your new fall apparel. It takes but one trial order to convince you of our superior facilities.

.: HUNDREDS OF NEW FALL STYLES ARE NOW READY IN .:

Men's and Boys' Suits and Ladies' and Misses' Cloaks, Men's, Boys' and Children's Neckwear, Shirts, Collars and Hats and Caps. Cuffs, etc., etc. Wraps and Jackets. Fall Overcoats.

These goods were bought at the lowest possible cash prices and they will be sold without one cent of profit. This may seem startling, but it is true. We are compelled to do business for glory because, owing to our present building operations, we have not the necessary room to show and display the goods. If you're wise, you'll make the best of it by making your purchases thus early in the season.

THE PROPOSED ENLARGEMENT OF OUR SHOE DEPARTMENT .:

will make it the largest place of its kind in the State. Just at present, however, we are rather crowded for room and won't hold on to our goods, if low prices will sell them. This week, in particular, our bargains in Men's, Women's, Boys', Youth's, Misses', Children's and Infants' Shoes will be something marvelous and exceptional. Economical people don't miss 'em.

THOSE WHO visit the Exposition need not be told to look at our display, because they can't help but see it, but we would urge all to call at our establishment and inspect our truly wonderful bargains.
